Working together to make a difference.

Welcome Stephanie Fertucci to LAMC

We are excited to announce that we have hired Stephanie Fertucci as the new incoming Program Director for the Leadership Academy of Madison County. Stephanie brings with her excitement and a passion to positively impact Madison County, and is looking forward to learning from Pam and building the programs for the future. Stephanie, Pam and Carrie will work together for 3 months planning the next year's programs and then Pam will transition into the Alumni Engagement Coordinator a newly created contracted position. Please join us in welcoming Stephanie! Stephanie can be reached at smfertucci@anderson.edu.

Stephanie Fertucci brings the message of being a servant first, leader second in her role as Program Director of Leadership Academy of Madison County. As a graduate of Anderson University in Social Work and Business Administration she chose careers where she could blend her desire to serve others while improving her community at the same time. Her work in disaster relief after Hurricane Katrina and as an advocate for children experiencing abuse and neglect in Madison County provided opportunities to lead teams with humility, vision and integrity. Stephanie enjoys being creative in all things work and home, but especially likes camping with her family and the solitude of working in her flower beds. Don't let that last hobby fool you, Stephanie is an outgoing extrovert with the ability to pull anyone into wild leadership activities!

CALL FOR PRESENTERS

LAMC is seeking presenters who are interactive with the participants and create an experiential learning environment that enables participants to have a different conversation today, tonight or tomorrow.
